Short description of the institution:

The University of East Sarajevo (UES) is an interdisciplinary, independent and self-governing institution, consisting of 15 faculties, two academies, and one research institute. The university has about 1,000 teachers, 10,000 students, and offers about 110 study programs at the levels of Bachelor, Master, long-cycle Master's, and Doctoral studies. Additionally, it organizes study programs in foreign languages across various fields. University has over 110 bilateral agreements signed with partner institutions from Europe and the world. These agreements regulate different types of cooperation, such as collaborative work on subjects and projects of mutual interest, the exchange of scholars and students, joint publications, and information sharing to enhance academic collaboration. Furthermore, the University of East Sarajevo is a member of several university networks and international associations, including EUA, UniAdrion, and the Danube Rectors' Conference.

Since 2000, the institution has actively participated in TEMPUS projects, FP6 programs, and other international initiatives, such as those addressing Brain Drain in the Western Balkans, USAID projects, Horizon 2020, Horizon Europe, Erasmus+, World Bank programs, and IPA projects. It stands as the largest educational institution in its geographical area, covering nine towns, and boasts significant human resources and infrastructural capacities. The University of East Sarajevo was the first accredited higher education institution (HEI) in Bosnia and Herzegovina in 2013, with re-accreditation completed in 2019. It has been awarded the Erasmus Charter for Higher Education (ECHE) for the period 2021-2027 and holds the HR Excellence in Research code by the European Commission. This recognition underscores its commitment to adopting the European Charter principles and codes for employing researchers.
